As die the star-beams in the bending blue. See, rosy morn doth khu the enstern hill With gorgoons tints, which downward stream, until O'er sleeping earth all colors gay they strew.

Now rose and violet tremble into viow; Anon, all shades that woo the painter's skill Soft cast o'er lonely lake and rippling A mystic spell of fairest rainbow hue.

O golden morn, which stealeth through the night. To shed thy gleaming rays o'er distant earth. And baths in beauty heaven's axure-dome.

O April, thou fairy, now moody, now airy, To what shall I liken thy art? Thy magical power woos leaf, bud and To ope to the sun's golden dart.

Now blossoms the fairest, their perfume the rarest,
Each valley and woodland do fill;
And o'er the gay flowers, in gossame

Soft falls the cool rain on the hill.

The glimmering river o'er green mess doth quiver, As onward it flows to the sea; New charms it revealeth, while kisses it stealeth Of blessoms that grow in the Ien.

In frollosome meeting the birds sing their greeting.
To nature as spring draweth night.
Their pinions are fleetest, their carols the sweetest.
That shower-like e'er fell from the sky.

How sweet is the knelling, on soft breezes That bids thee, C April, away:

For the third of a century the standard for strength and purity. It makes the hot bread, hot biscuit, cake and other pastry light, sweet and excellent in every quality.

No other baking powder is "just as good as Royal," either in strength, purity or wholesomeness.

Many low priced, imitation baking powders are upon the market. These are made with alum and care should be taken to avoid them, as alum is a poison, never to be taken in the food.

WONDERFUL MUSICAL INSTRU-

MENT. What Prof. Radcliffe Thinks of the

Daynes Music Company, Salt Lake City:

Dear Sirs: I have to thank you for drawing my attention to that most wonderful invention, the Planola. At first I was inclined to be dublous as to the results, but after listening to your rendition of several standard and clausical compositions. I was astounded and began to realize its capabilities.

To the student on the planoforte it will be invaluable, as it will enable him to study any composition he may wish to learn in all its details, and hear how it ought to be rendered when he plays it himself upon the planos without the aid of the Planola. To the amateur who does not wish to spend much time in mastering technical difficulties, it will enable him to perform at once any compositions of the greatest masters perfectly; of course, this will require a study of musical interpretation.

To the teacher who fears that this new invention will injure his business, he will find that his services will still be required in families to instruct how to use this adjunct to the plano, as he will be required to teach musical effects interpretation of channard and classical compositions etc.; how to phrase; in fact, nearly everything except technique.

To those who merely wish to use it for amusement and pieasure in listen-ing to popular music, it will prove a never-ending source of enjoyment. I am yours truly, THOS. RADCLIFFE, A. G. O.

A Gentleman

The notice.

The polished manners, the highbred bearing so difficult of attainment—all that goes to constitute a gentleman; the carriage, grace, gestures, voice; the case, the self-possession, the courtesy; the talent of not offending, the generosity and forbestrance—these qualities, some of them come by nature, some are found in any rank, some are the direct precept of Christianity.

HOLY WEEK IN MANTLA.

A special cable dispatch from Manila to the New York San on Saturday last said: "There has been a remarkable demonstration of religious fervor during the past few days. On Holy Thursday and Good Friday business was entirely suspended and everybody in the city appeared to be occupied with devotions. All the flags were at half-mast, no bells were rung, and not a carriage was to be seen in the streets. All the people who had occusion to go out walked. Men, women and children made pilgrimages to the churches. Ten thousand persons marched in a procession on Holy Thursday and fought for the privilege of carrying images of the saints. On Good Friday 20.150 persons participated in the service, which was solemnized by the Archbishop. There were some remarkable scenes of humilation and self-torture.
